Dear Friends,

Eighteen years ago, the Mayerson JCC opened the doors to our home in Amberley Village. In Jewish tradition, 18 is chai—life. And as we celebrate this meaningful milestone, there is perhaps no better word to describe what has happened here over the past 18 years.

What began as a new building has become so much more: a place where our community comes to life. Our Early Childhood School and Camp at the J have grown tremendously. Our Arts, Ideas & Jewish Life programs bring inspiration, connection, and richness to our community. And every day, our building provides something just as important as any program: a place to gather.

For so many people, the J has become Cincinnati's Jewish town square—a true “third space” beyond home and work, where friendships are formed, traditions are celebrated, ideas are shared, and community happens. Our membership, now at an all-time high of nearly 9,000 individuals, is a testament to just how much this place means to the people we serve. When we opened our doors, we never imagined our building could sustain a community of this size.

And yet, we know our greatest chapters are still ahead.

With CEO Holly Wolfson providing new leadership and with the continued generosity and partnership of our donors, we are poised to imagine what comes next. Together, we have an opportunity to create a bold new vision for an expanded community center—one that can meet the needs of an evolving and growing community for generations to come.

Thank you for helping make this place so full of life.
We look forward to building what comes next, together.

With gratitude,

Bob Oestreicher | President

ARTS, IDEAS & JEWISH LIFE

A Vibrant Jewish Community

Arts & Ideas brings together people of all ages to engage in new ideas and old traditions, building a community that is dynamic, inspired, and rooted in Jewish values.

- ▲ Our Jewish & Israeli Film Festival celebrated the magic of cinema, bringing the community together to enjoy 12 award-winning feature films.
- ▲ Texts for Our Time: Cincinnati's Lehrhaus-Style Gathering brought together 50 people over three nights to discuss Jewish learning, dialogue, and community.
- ▲ The Fall Market featured a festive array of 80 vendors offering baked goods, handcrafted jewelry, stylish clothing, and seasonal favorites, like apples and honey.
- ▲ Through an artist-in-residence partnership with theatre dybbuk, 60 & Better participants, young artists, and Jewish professionals engaged in four workshops culminating in a performance of Dracula (Annotated) at Cincinnati Memorial Hall.
- ▲ Pride Month brought community members together through the Rainbow Challah Bake and Cincinnati Pride Parade, celebrating the intersection of Jewish identity, inclusion, and belonging.

"It [The Film Festival] happens at the perfect time of year: the dead of winter. It gives the community something to look forward to during the cold months. It brings people together, the Jewish community and the community at-large. It tackles difficult and timely issues and offers historical perspectives and narratives on important subjects that spark robust reflection and conversations."

— Aaron Weiner

- 160+ attendees enjoyed a nostalgic evening at Blue Skies: the music of Irving Berlin
- 2,300+ tickets issued to the 2026 Mayerson JCC Jewish & Israeli Film Festival
- 39 art pieces created for the 2025 Under One Roof Sukkah Art Exhibit
- 90+ individuals made challah together at the 2026 Rainbow Challah Bake
- 590 personal care items collected for Caracole, supporting people living with HIV/AIDS

ISRAEL PROGRAMMING

Connecting with Israel and One Another

From educational programming to holiday celebrations and remembrances, the JCC provides opportunities for individuals of all ages to engage with the people, history, and culture of Israel.

- ▲ We hosted the first Z3 @ Cincinnati conference, bringing people together to wrestle with bold ideas about the future of Jewish peoplehood in Israel and beyond.
- ▲ On October 7, we unveiled Wings of Hope, an exhibit of broken toys inspired by artist Livnat Kutz, who was tragically killed with her family on October 7, symbolizing community and resilience.
- ▲ On Yom HaZikaron, our community came together to remember and honor fallen soldiers and civilians killed in acts of terror.
- ▲ Jewish high school seniors represented Cincinnati on March of the Living, joining teens from around the world for an immersive journey connecting them with Jewish history.

"The discussion topics at Z3 were timely and relevant to today's American Jewish society. The testimony of Omer Shem Tov [who was held hostage after October 7 for 505 days] was very emotional and powerful; I won't forget what he shared for a long time."

— Lila Seest

600+ people came together to celebrate Yom HaAtzmaut, Israeli Independence Day, including 20 community partner agencies

230+ teens and adults explored Jewish Peoplehood and Zionism through the first annual Z3 @ Cincinnati

100+ community members participated in the October 7 memorial and Wings of Hope dedication

268 people remembered fallen soldiers and victims of terror at the annual Yom Hazikaron ceremony

CHILDREN, TEENS & FAMILY
Roots of Jewish Life

From supporting expectant parents, to nurturing developing minds and engaging with students, children are at the heart of the JCC’s programming and mission. From birth to adulthood, we are cultivating a Jewish community that will thrive for generations to come.

- ▲ The Early Childhood School welcomed 34 new families, joining 121 returning families, to a nurturing environment where children grow through play-based learning and Jewish values.
- ▲ ECS launched a Jewish values curriculum framework, in partnership with our Jewish Life team.
- ▲ Theatre at the J saw continued growth. 33 children participated in the fall production of A Tree Called Aesop and 40 children in The Wizard of Oz, Youth Edition.
- ▲ J Baby provided 18 soon-to-be parents with essential classes on childbirth and infant care, all through a meaningful Jewish lens. Over three years, more than 60 J Babies have been born as part of the program.
- ▲ In collaboration with the Cincinnati Ballet’s Otto M. Budig Academy, we offered ballet classes for 25 aspiring young dancers.
- ▲ 43 people attended Sababa Sundays, exploring all their senses through books, instruments, and Jewish Music.

“Theatre at the J is a truly amazing experience for our young people. This is my daughter’s third show. She feels welcomed, inspired, and accepted. We have watched her grow and blossom throughout the program. It is always a pleasure to watch such a young cast put on such an amazing show.”

YOUNG ADULTS
Finding Community

For those who are brand new to the community or who have been in Cincinnati their whole lives, the 20s and 30s program is the place for young adults to plant their roots and connect with new and old friends!

- ▲ 45+ young adults spent the evening at the J Classic Par-Tee. It's one of the biggest social outings of the year, bringing young adults and our entire community together.
- ▲ Latkapalooza was a huge success, drawing the largest crowd of any young adult event this year.
- Attendees got in the holiday spirit with latkes, suffaniyot, and festive conversation.
- ▲ Young adults attended events in five unique locations around Cincinnati, including Memorial Hall and MadTree Parks & Rec.

"The 20s and 30s programming has definitely been a highlight of my past year. Especially as someone new to the area, these events gave me a fantastic opportunity to meet peers and build friendships in a fun, relaxed environment. They really create a strong sense of belonging and have made my experience as a young adult here so much more meaningful and enjoyable!"

60 & BETTER CENTER
Fit and Fun at Every Age

Each day at the J, seniors come together to pursue their creativity, enjoy a game of Rummikub or Mah-jongg, group fitness class, and hear lectures from experts. They gather in community and join on day trips to explore parts of Cincinnati, supporting not only physical and mental well-being, but also providing connection.

- ▲ Through Adult Children of Aging Parents, our social worker provided tools and guidance to help participants and their families handle life transitions.
- ▲ Groups experienced the best of Cincinnati – and beyond – through Day Trips, including the Miller House Architectural Tour, a cabaret at Ghost Baby, the Museum Center’s Auschwitz Exhibit, and an overnight trip to The Wilds.
- ▲ The Solo Aging program gave people new opportunities to participate in vibrant community life no matter their circumstances, including a comedy night, watercolor classes, and overnight trips.
- ▲ Through a partnership with Braver Angels, we offered three workshops on depolarization and how to have difficult conversations about politics.
- ▲ The first-ever 60 & Better cruise created connection for 37 community members in the Caribbean.

“There really are no strangers. You gradually meet people each time you come along on an activity; you meet a couple of people, and it grows.”

IN THE COMMUNITY
JCC on Location

The J's impact is felt far beyond the walls of our campus, extending to stadiums, museums, theatres, and public gatherings; connecting hundreds of people throughout the Greater Cincinnati Area.

- ▲ Beginning in 2018, Jewish Community Night at the Reds has brought together people from across the spectrum of Jewish observance to enjoy one of America's greatest past-times.
- ▲ Jewish Community Night at the Cincinnati Cyclones is the perfect setting for bringing community members of all ages together to fulfill the mission of connecting people.
- ▲ In partnership with Cincinnati Opera, the Jewish community enjoyed a matinee performance of the Broadway Classic, Fiddler on the Roof.
- ▲ J Serve, the JCC's new community service initiative, was launched in August with the first Jewish service-learning project, giving community members the opportunity to repair the world (Tikkun Olam).

"I was sitting with a group of women at a party, and they all started talking about the JCC and how it was like the center of their community or the beginning of their community, especially once they had children. Every single one of them talked about how the J helped create community after giving birth, which can often be a period when you feel isolated. It was a place to meet friends, to just sit sometimes, or to have a hot cup of coffee while the kids were at J Play. You'd always run into somebody, and you'd always find community."

INCLUSION
Making Space for Everyone

The J works with community members to build a more accessible and inclusive JCC and to provide a place for community members of all abilities to build lifelong friendships, have new experiences, and be active members in our community.

- ▲ Camp at the J welcomed 16 advocate campers for a total of 101 weeks of Camp at the J, including 12 returning campers.
- ▲ Seven disability inclusion trainings expanded our impact across the JCC and beyond, including a collaboration with JPRO that brought together more than 70 Jewish professionals to learn best practices for creating inclusive communities.
- ▲ In partnership with the Joshua al-Lateef Jr. Foundation, neurodivergent swimmers gained confidence and skills through free, private swim lessons. Our next round begins shortly, with a waitlist of more than 100 participants.
- ▲ 19 young artists of all abilities created art in partnership with Visionaries + Voices.
- ▲ Social narratives made community events like the Fall Market, Oy Vey 5K, and Community Night at the Cyclones more accessible, making the Mayerson JCC the first in the JCCA network to use them in this way.

“The advocate program at Camp at the J has been one of the best opportunities for my son and, in turn, our family. There are very few camps or extracurricular activities for students who have more support needs that are not therapy. I didn’t want to send my son to therapy over the summer. I wanted him to have fun like every other kid gets to have. Camp at the J allowed my son the summer he deserved by having the support he needed while being fully included in the activities he wanted to be part of.”

FITNESS & WELLNESS

Stronger You

Mayerson JCC is home to one of Cincinnati's best fitness centers. With so much to offer, everyone can find a way to stay healthy and fit. Whether you're looking for a challenging strength training class, a restorative yoga session, or to build strength through Pilates, we have programs to meet, and even surpass, your goals.

- ▲ The J's growing Pilates program created more ways to participate through new pop-up and drop-in classes.
- ▲ Our new Health Coaching Initiative gives participants personalized support to set meaningful health and wellness goals, build healthier habits, and make lasting changes in nutrition, mindfulness, stress management, work-life balance, and overall well-being.
- ▲ Commit to be Fit empowers participants to become the best versions of themselves, building strength and confidence through focused, small-group training.
- ▲ Three athletes who participated in our Sports Performance Training received Division One athletic scholarship offers.

"[Personal Trainer] Lara Bacon has significantly helped me build strength, balance, and quickness. Having this support has increased my confidence on the tennis court, especially when competing against strong athletic players who can be over 35 years younger than me."
— Drew Berzman

SPORTS & RECREATION

Teamwork Builds Community

At the J, everyone can get in the game and play their favorite sport. From the youngest baseball players to basketball enthusiasts of every age, our sports programs offer a competitive environment in a strong, supportive community.

- ▲ This year, 120 players competed across three fully enrolled Men’s Basketball Leagues, offering a competitive and community-driven outlet for adult athletes.
- ▲ Through baseball, basketball, and soccer, Blue Jays Youth Sports gives young athletes a place to build skills, confidence, and connections with their teammates.
- ▲ Adult Pickleball brought players of all skill levels together for competition and connection through pick-up games, instructional courses, and tournaments.
- ▲ The Men’s Softball League continues to be a popular and spirited way for community members to stay active and connected.

“The connections formed at the 2026 Maccabi Games among Cincinnati teammates and with participants from communities around the world were unlike anything I have seen in any other program. Beyond the competition, every moment provided an opportunity to build friendships, strengthen Jewish identity, and create meaningful connections that will last a lifetime. We hope to participate again in 2027!”

SUPPORT THE J
You Make this Community Vibrant

Thanks to your support, the J brings people together through arts and culture programs, Shabbat dinners, youth programs, sports tournaments, and more. This work is also made possible by the generous organizations that fund our programs.

In 2025, our generous donors, sponsors, funders, and supporters contributed $5,712,085.

Membership revenue and program fees do not cover all our costs. Donations, grants, and other charitable contributions help cover more than 35% of our operating budget. Your generous donations allow us to continue to connect people so that they can live happier and fuller lives, creating a more vibrant Jewish community.

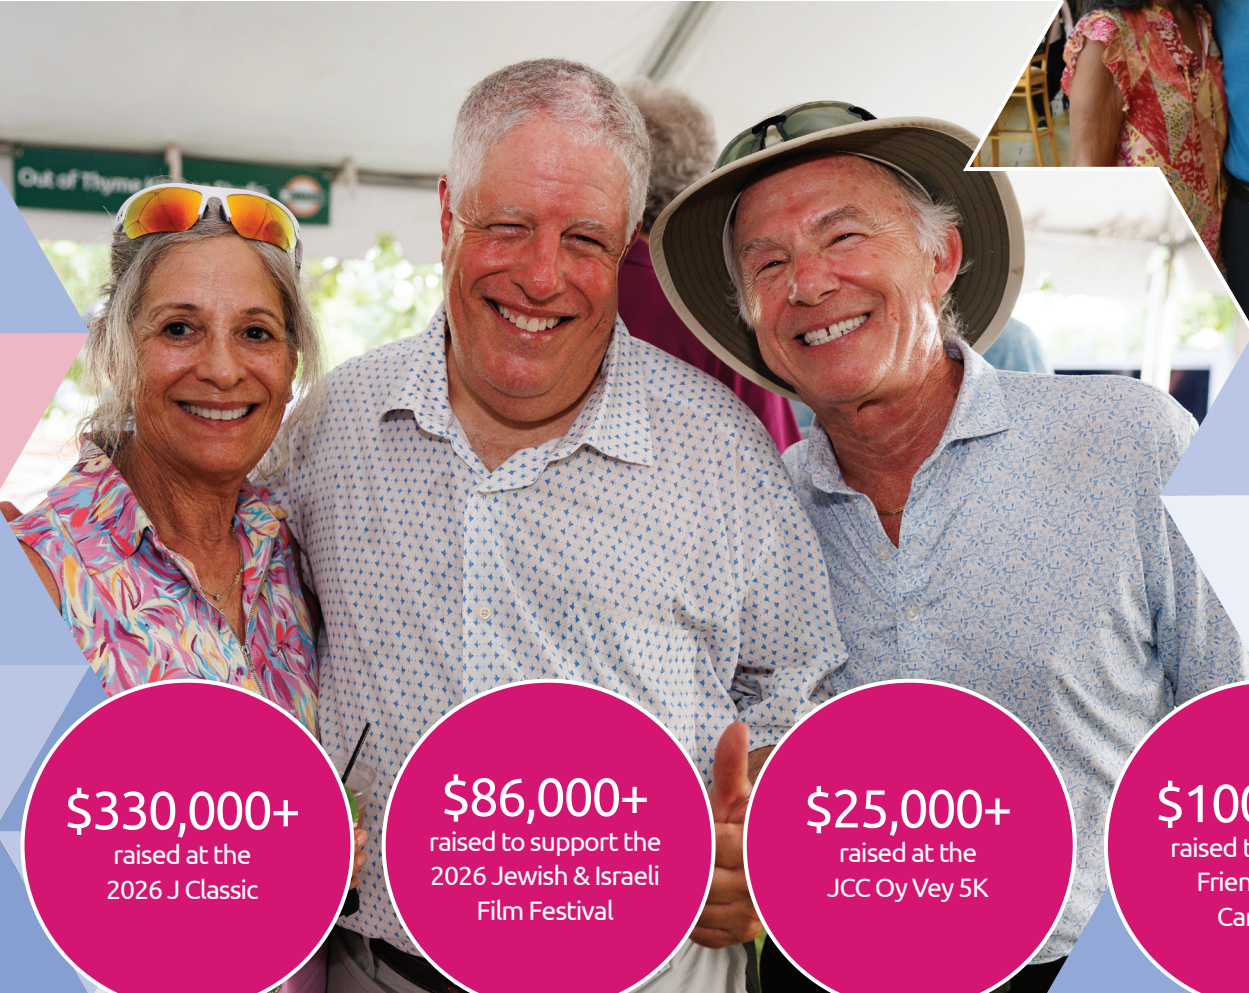

Lead Funding Partners

The Mayerson JCC is generously funded by The Jewish Foundation of Cincinnati, Jewish Federation of Cincinnati, and other generous donors. Certain programs also receive funds administered by the Council on Aging of Southwestern Ohio.

“The world can feel like a really hard and divided place. If you read the news, it feels scary and hard. And yet, in life and in my relationships, people show me over and over again that’s not true. I think there’s a softness to humanity and a softness to people when we’re in proximity to one another and in relationship with one another. The J gives us the gift of proximity and the opportunity for relationship.”
